

Anton Guinea

A photograph of a speaker, Anton Guinea, standing on a stage in front of a large audience. He is wearing a dark suit and is gesturing with his right hand towards the audience. The audience is seated in rows of chairs, facing the stage. The stage lighting is focused on the speaker, creating a bright spot in the dark auditorium. The background shows the wooden walls and ceiling of the venue.

WHEN YOUR AUDIENCE MATTERS ...

Most of the speakers that you will hire are focused on themselves. They think your event is about them. The Speaker.

They don't realise that if the audience hasn't been impacted, influenced, and inspired, the session was not successful.

I get it.

My speaking is all about energy – bringing presence, pace, and passion so audiences lean in and stay engaged.

It's about engagement – I don't just talk about psychological safety, I create it in the room, so people feel safe to speak up and contribute

And it's powered by enterprise thinking – sharing real-world strategies leaders and teams can apply immediately to build safer, stronger workplaces.

That's my commitment.

And I have spoken on stages that most speakers never will ... Like the Sydney Opera House.

FROM ELECTRICAL WORKER TO LEADERSHIP SAFETY-IST

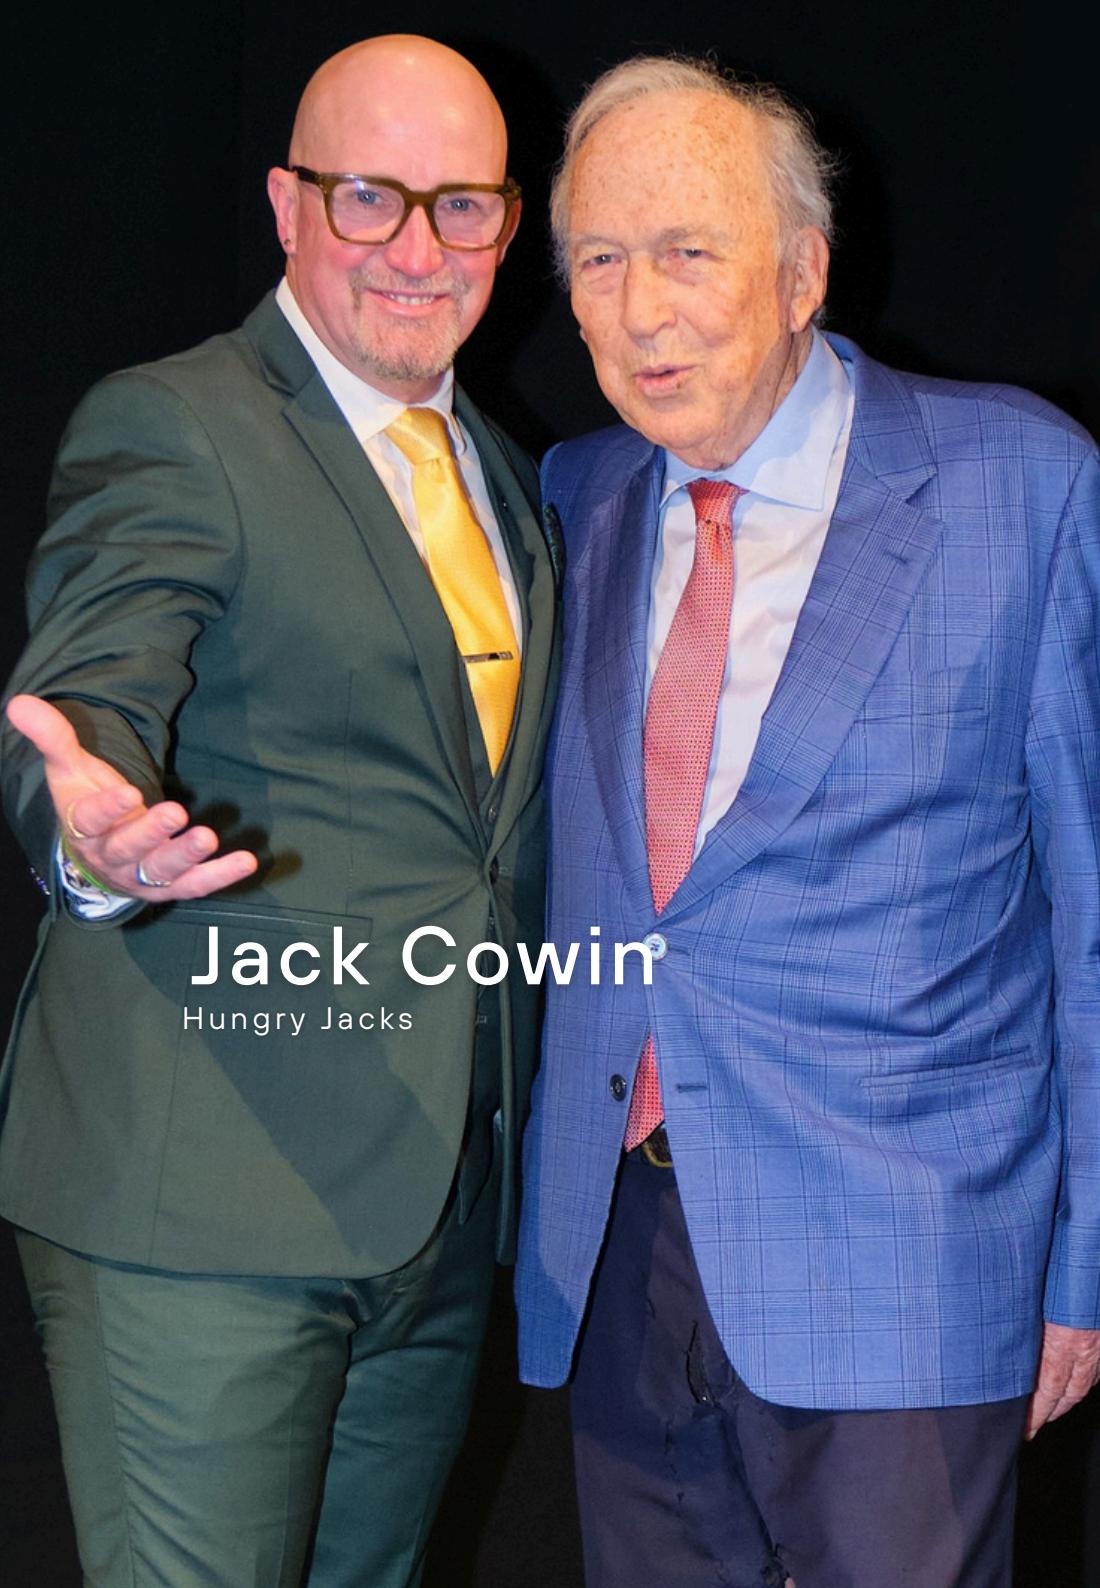

My journey started in the trades, where a switchboard explosion nearly ended my career before it began. That moment taught me firsthand the critical importance of safety – not as a box to tick, but as something that saves lives.

Instead of walking away, I leaned in. I became fascinated with why accidents happen and, more importantly, how culture, leadership, and communication shape safe or unsafe behaviours at work.

That path led me into the world of organisational psychology, where I now help leaders and teams (including business leaders at an event at Red Bull Racing) create environments built on trust, safety, and high performance – because real transformation starts in the way people think, feel, and interact.

Global Speaker, awarded business owner, Psychology Degree qualified, audience focused, 86% client satisfaction ... spoken with celebrities ... and I've learnt from celebrities ...

SPEAK SAFE

“Tough conversations. Without the damage.”

Leaders want results from their teams – the best results come from teams that feel safe to speak up. In this keynote, Anton Guinea unpacks how psychological safety starts with simple, human leadership: the kind that listens deeply, cares genuinely, and creates space for honest conversations. He shares practical tools that help leaders move from talking at their teams to connecting with them.

Through engaging stories and real-world examples, Anton shows how caring conversations can transform team culture, build trust, and unlock performance. Leaders will walk away ready to listen with intent, respond with empathy, and lead with courage – creating environments where every voice is valued, and every team member feels safe to contribute their best.

Your Audience will learn:

THE CARE PROCESS

Communication, Acceptance, Responsibility, Empathy

THE LANGUAGE OF SAFETY

Words and behaviours that encourage openness and reduce fear

WHY PSYCHOLOGICAL SAFETY MATTERS

The link between safety, trust, and high performance

TURNING INSIGHT INTO ACTION

A simple framework to build teams that are fearless, innovative, and engaged

HOW TO CREATE SAFE SPACES FOR CONTRIBUTION

Practical tools leaders can use straight away

“Speak Safe gives your people the tools to handle tough conversations without causing harm – because how we speak shapes culture, trust, and safety.”

STAY SAFE

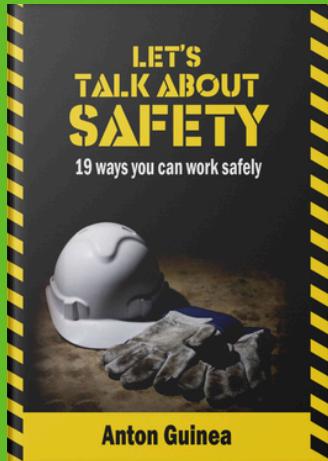

“Split-second choices. Real-world consequences.”

When Anton got blown up inside a switchboard, everything changed – his body, his mindset, and his understanding of risk.

In Stay Safe, Anton takes the audience inside that moment and the hard lessons that followed.

This keynote isn't about fear – It's about awareness, responsibility, and making safety real, not routine. Your team will learn how split-second decisions, overconfidence, and complacency can stack up – and how to break that chain before something breaks them.

It's a raw, honest talk that leaves people thinking differently about safety – and acting on it.

Your Audience will learn:

IT'S JUST NOT WORTH IT. SERIOUSLY, IT'S NOT.

- Let me tell you about my story of horrific burns
- I rushed a job that didn't need to be rushed—slow down
- There were consequences—don't let this happen to you

JUST STOP AND BREATHE YOU'LL MAKE BETTER DECISIONS.

- Use the power of oxygenating your brain
- It's all about leading yourself through pressure
- Don't let others change your priorities and put you at risk

DON'T DO SAFETY FOR OTHERS DO IT FOR YOU & YOUR WELLNESS.

- It can all be over in a moment—don't let it be
- Others suffer, but you suffer more, from poor safety decisions
- Make safety matter. Stand up for it, wherever you need to “Stay Safe gives your team a mindset shift – they'll walk away seeing safety not as a checklist, but as a daily choice that could save a life, including their own.”

LEAD SAFE

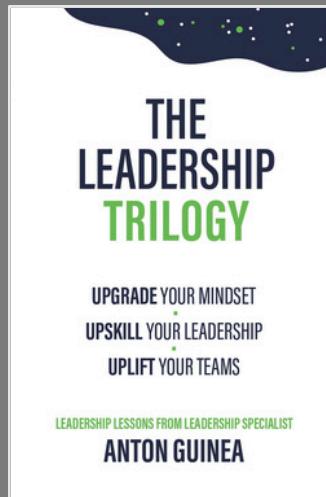

“They don’t follow rules. They follow you.”

Leadership is influence, and influence has consequences. In Lead Safe, Anton challenges leaders to look beyond policies and procedures and examine the behaviours they model – because people don’t follow rules, they follow leaders.

Through his story and lessons from high-risk industries, Anton shows how authority, tone, and small decisions can create ripple effects across an entire organisation.

Your leaders will walk away with practical ways to lead with clarity, humility, and consistency – because safety, culture, and performance all start at the top.

This keynote is based on Anton’s Podcast chats with leaders and sports stars.
